iPad (5th generation)
iPad mini (5th generation)
iPad mini 4
iPad Air
(4th generation)
iPad Air (3rd generation)
iPad Air 2

The current version of Procreate for iPad is 5X Patch 5 (5.1.5). It requires iPadOS 13.2 or newer to install.

Procreate is available for US $9.99, exclusively on the App Store. This price may vary based on your region. This additional cost is not included in the class tuition. Arts Visalia will NOT cover this cost. Take a look at the Procreate Handbook! It's a fully searchable online manual that explains what all the features in Procreate do, where to find them, and how to use them.

Procreate fully supports Apple Pencil with settings for Tilt, Azimuth, Accumulation, and Flow. Any iPad model that is Apple Pencil compatible doesn't officially support third-party styluses, except for the Logitech Crayon. Third-party styluses may still work or partially work, but an 'Accessory Not Supported' error message will be regularly displayed. The Logitech Crayon is designed using Apple Pencil technology and performs many of the same tasks, except registering pressure sensitivity. Logitech Crayon is compatible with all iPads released in 2018 or later. The only iPad models not Apple Pencil compatible are iPad Air 2, iPad mini 4 and 5th generation iPad. If your device isn't Apple Pencil compatible, Procreate supports the following active styli:

- TenOneDesign - Pogo Connect, Pogo Connect 2
- Adonit - Jot Touch 4, Jot Touch Pixelpoint, Jot Script, Jot Script 2, Pixel
- Wacom - Intuos Creative Stylus 1 & 2, Bamboo Fineline 1, 2, & 3, Bamboo Sketch
- The Intuos Creative Stylus 2, Bamboo Fineline and Bamboo Fineline 2 are officially unsupported on iPad Air 2 and iPad mini 4 due to hardware incompatibilities.
- You can use any capacitive or magnetic field passive stylus with Procreate, without the need for a Bluetooth connection.
- Procreate Pocket doesn't support third-party styli on iPhone 11 Pro and iPhone 11 Pro Max, or on any iPhone 12 models due to their OLED screen technology. You can still use any passive stylus however.
